The storm Sunday morning did much damage in our vicinity. It blew the roof off Alexander Watson's barn and killed a valuable horse, tore the roof off William Middleton's meat-house and blew several fruit trees down. It damaged Mr. Watson about $500.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cruse took a skiff ride to Manchester on Monday. The object aside from the recreation was to do some shopping.
William and Grant Ruggies of Lewis county paid their father a flying visit on Sunday. They were royally entertained, the best the shop afforded being placed at their disposal.

The Silver Wave hardly ever fails to put in an appearance on time, about 9 a. m. Captain Webb is very accommodating and will receive the patronage of our town henceforth.

John Otto and Edward McDonald set each about one acre of tobacco the first of last week and were again busily engaged with all their force on Monday of this week. Their plants are booming.

DOVER.

Miss Idella Shaw of Ripley, O., was in town yesterday teaching some of our youth how to go up and down the scale. She is quite a popular instructor in her line.

C. E. Curran of this place, now traveling in the interest of the Wrought Iron Range Company of St. Louis, Mo., arrived home Saturday night and remained with his family over Sunday and Monday.

The storm on Sunday did quite a considerable amount of damage in and around this place, but nothing serious in town except to a number of fine fruit trees. At Minerva it whipped the life out of Robert Whipp's barn, and at Fern Leaf it showed D. French how a French barn could be laid. On Tuckahoe Ridge it picked up Mr. Pickett's two barns and demolished them. Scott Osborn had one barn partially unroofed. Passing over to John Bacon's it tackled his barn full of tobacco and blew it over.

A loud explosion Sunday afternoon about 1 o'clock alarmed the residents in the neighborhood of Fourth and Scott streets, Covington. It was the idea at first that a boiler had exploded, and that some persons had been killed. There was a rush toward the electric light power house, where the explosion appeared to have occurred. A large steam pipe in that place had burst, parts of the broken pipe being hurled about the room and into the machinery. Huge volumes of steam were sent all through the building before the steam valve could be turned off. Luckily the engineer and firemen were not near the place where the break occurred; otherwise it would have been the death of them. The damage from the accident will amount to $400 or $500. The business of the company was not interfered with.

The next annual reunion of the Army of the Cumberland, to be held at Chickamauga, has been finally fixed for September 15th and 16th. It will thus take place the week before the Grand Army Encampment at Washington, instead of the week after, as first planned.
